THE JEWISH RACE CREATED COMMUNISM AND CRITICAL RACE THEORY

Above: Marx, the JEWISH founder of communism. Below: Horkheimer and Adorno, the JEWISH founders of Critical Race Theory.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF CRT

You've heard about Critical Race Theory. But where and who did it come from?

Throughout the 19th century, Jewish intellectuals developed the philosophy of communism. In the early 20th century, Jews carried out multiple communist revolutions in Europe. In 1917, they succeeded in Russia and created the Soviet Union. In 1918, they were stopped in Germany. The fear of these Jew-led communist coups created the climate of anti-Semitism in Europe during this time period. As a result, many Jews fled to the US. At Columbia University in New York, Jews of the "Frankfurt School" developed a modified version of Marxist ideology called Critical Theory. Instead of preaching the overthrow of the bourgeoisie by the workers, Critical Theory preaches the overthrow of all forms of "hierarchy," which is broadly defined to include such things as the nuclear family, gender norms, sexual norms, and nationalism. Critical Race Theory (CRT), the most significant branch of Critical Theory, teaches that White people are inherently privileged and must be overthrown and replaced by non-Whites at all levels of society.

This vocabulary comes from Critical Theory: woke, racism, sexism, classism, homophobia, xenophobia, Islamophobia, whiteness, White privilege, toxic masculinity, pan-sexual, cis-gendered, LGBTQ+, the patriarchy, ACAB (All Cops Are Bastards), BLM, marginalized, intersectionality, feminism, systemic oppression, trigger warning, BIPOC, decolonize, sex positive, body positive, they/them, deconstruct, and mansplain.

Despite being less than 2% of the US population, Jews are vastly overrepresented in the fields of academia, politics, business, the media, the courts, and left wing activism. They use these positions of power to propagate and enforce Critical Theory.
